

Moving made easy

A BERDEEN-based international removals and storage firm, Clark & Rose, has teamed up with lifestyle management company, Consider it Done, to offer movers a one-stop-shop aimed at eliminating all the hassles and stress which traditionally go hand-in-hand with relocating.

The new service, which will be available to all Clark & Rose clients, has been named Moving Essentials, and will facilitate every aspect of the moving process.

As part of the process, an initial consultation is undertaken prior to the start of work, free of charge and with no obligation, and this identifies areas where the client will require assistance.

All of the subsequent work is undertaken remotely, resulting in the pressures of the move being left to the professionals. Some of the services which are on offer include mail re-direction, cleaning, gardening, change of address co-ordination (water, gas, electricity, telephone), keys cut, liaison with utility providers, organise groceries for the new home and researching insurance coverage for cars, property and home contents.
